DISASTROUS DAY FOR FORM PLAYERS

Six Favorites Bowled Over at Juarez, Trojan Belle Only Scoring.

Juarez, Mexico, January 17 .-- Form players experienced a most disastrous day when the six favorites were bowled over in rapid succession to-day The only near favorite to score was Trojan Belle, which was equal choice with Star Berta. The Juanita handicap, the feature of the card, went to Milton Robles by the shortest of margins, with the favorite, Gipsy Love, in second place, and Captain Burns third.

Gipsy Love cut out the pace to the final eighth, where Milton Robleo, coming fast on the outside, caught Groth on the favorite napping, and in a fierce drive managed to get the decision by a short head. The fifth race furnished another close finish, when Wheeler got up in time to beat Coagrove, the favorite, on the post. The winner had worked fast in his trials, and was extensively played by the and was extensively played by clockers.

BY ROANOKE TEAM

Blacksburg, Va., January 17.—In the best basketball game of the season on the home floor, V. P. I. lost to Roanoke College this afternoon by a score of 30 to 41. Although the visitors have the best team they have ever brought here, the Techs lost as much by bad luck as poor playing, missing goals by the narrowest margin numbers of times.

Highspire Sold to New Yorker

A prominent transfer in the horse world occurred recently, when James W. Graves, of this city, sold his great thoroughbred hunter Highspire to Robert L. Gerry, of New York. Highspire is a son of Mesmerist and Miss Longford, by Longfellow, and is an ideal type of the hunting horse. He stands 16.2 and weighs 1,180 pounds. He was bred in Lexington, Ky., where Mr. Graves purchased him as a three-year-old. He was ridden to the Deep Run hounds for four seasons.

Mr. Gerry is master of the famous Orange County bounds of New York, and purchased Highspire for his personal mount.

The rapid-going Howitzer quint defeated the Randolph-Macon basketball team last night by a score of 37 to 21. The game was played on the soldiers' court, and was fast and hard fought throughout. A large and enthusiastic crowd packed the gallery and kept things lively by their animated rooting. The collegians brought down a good-sized bunch in anticipation of a victory over the locals, and, true to Randolph-Macon traditions, never stopped cheering until the final whistle blew.

Randolph-Macon traditions, never stopped cheering until the final whistle blew.

The game, while rapid and thrilling, was very clean, each team gaining only one point by the free toss method. This speaks well of both the Howitzers and Randolph-Macon's clean sportsmanship. More games of this kind would soon put basketball on the plane it deserves to occupy in the minds of the sport-loving public.

Lawrence, of the locals, played the game of his life, getting seven field goals, and his work was only overshadowed by the splendid work of Metcalf at centre, who had eight field goals to his credit at the final whistle. Shippe, Milliken and Compton put up the best exhibitions for the Ashlanders. Line-up and summary follows:

Boatwright Not Afraid.

President J. O. Boatwright writes from Danville that he has small fear of the Federal League. He doesn't think that the rivals of the National and American Leagues will find any too much material in the organization over which he wields the sceptre. "The only way I can figure the Federal League to hurt the Virginia League." he says, "would be in the case where they find they cannot sign the big leagues they are after they may try leaguers they are after, they may try to induce some of the best from this league to join them by paying class "A" salaries. Other than this I feel no apprehension for the Virginia League for the coming year. "If the millions they have are not too far behind them, the Federal League will give the major leagues something to worry about, but to my mind the end is inevitable. Most of the Player's Fraternity demands have been met by the National Commission, and I do not believe there will be much headway made by the outlaws in signing players already under reserve contracts with organized baseball clubs. Few contracts have thus far been received by me for Virginia League players, but I am assured by each of the clubs that the managers are busy and are finding no difficulty in getting players on account of the Federal League.

The Virginia League bids fair to be faster than ever next season."

There's his opinion in a nutshell, and it comes pretty near covering the ground. The Feds can never hope to make big league baseball out of bush league material, and without wishing to affront anybody, class "C" baseball savors very much of the bushes.

President Boatwright announces that he has reserved Umpires Norcumb. Kelly, Clark and McTague, and that he has signed for tryouts Henry A. Tone, of New York, and A. W. McKee, of Decatur, Ill. Hughes, of Washington, asked such an exorbitant price as to make his services impossible to secure.
